

Sienná - What Matters

Sienná is an artist with a focus on creating edgy, experimental music. The sound of this act blurs the lines between electronic music, cinematic compositions, and beautiful melodic suites, tipping the hat off to artists as diverse as Ryuichi Sakamoto, Alva Noto, and many others.

Sienná recently released a single titled “What Matters.” This track offers a unique combination of groundbreaking production aesthetics, with a sound that feels blissfully minimalistic, yet rich and nuanced.

The song’s rhythm arrangement makes me think of producers as diverse as Flying Lotus and Boards of Canada, while the melodic arrangements are often reminiscent of eastern folk and Japanese classical music. Ultimately, what makes this song really special is its diverse and endearing range of influences, providing a one-of-a-kind soundscape!
